

The Ice Princess

By. Natalie

Once upon a time there was a princess. Her name was Princess Emily. She was so beautiful that everyone loved her.

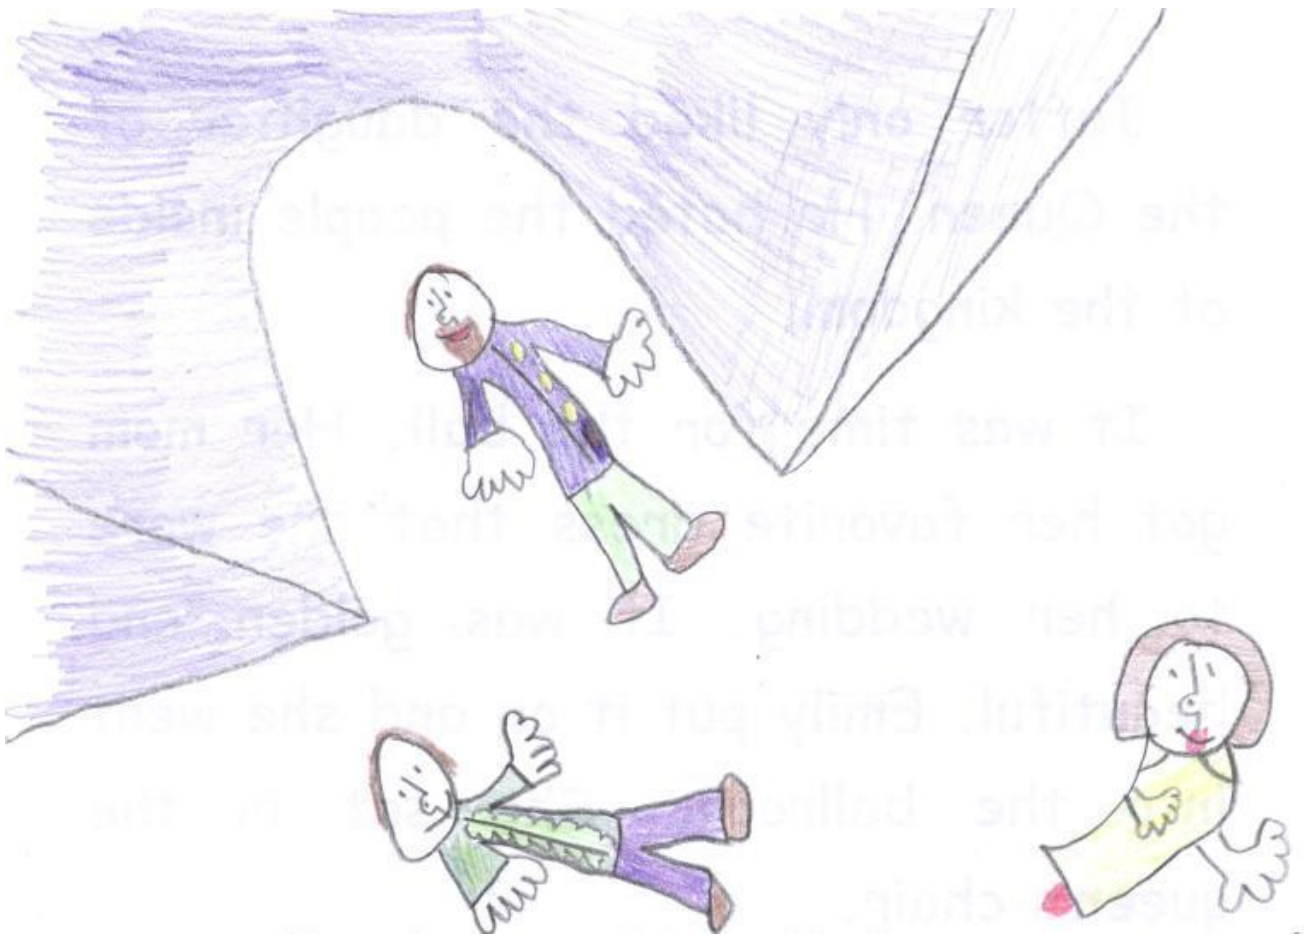

One time her mom said she needs to get married. So her mom planned a ball. She wasn't too wild about that. The next morning when she woke up, the sun was shining and she got up. She went to the hall where her mom was. In fact, she was heading to Emily's room. Her mom called to Emily, "Emily, come here. Tonight we are having a ball at the ice skating rink." "We are?" said Emily, "I love skating! Thank you mom, I am just so happy."

One of the servants heard them, but he wasn't just a servant. He was a mean wizard. His name was Jafter. He was an evil wizard who hated the kingdom.

Jafter only liked the daughter of the queen. He hated the people inside the kingdom.

It was time for the ball. Her mom got her favorite dress that she wore to her wedding. It was golden and beautiful. Emily put it on and she went into the ballroom. She sat in the queen's chair.

Suddenly there was a man! As soon as she saw him, she knew he was the one. So she got out of the queen's chair and asked if he would dance. He said yes. They danced and danced. It was the happiest day of her life!

All of a sudden Jafter came and tossed them like rag dolls away from each other. "Who are you?" said Emily.

"I am Harry, your servant. My real name is Jafter", he said.

"You are?" said Emily.

“Yes. You know, like in the fairy tales. Well, it’s true! It’s me Jafter. Now I will destroy your friends and family!” he said.

“You will never get away with this!” said Emily.

“Oh Yeah?!” said Jafter, “Watch me!”

“You will regret this!” said Emily. Then he disappeared.

Emily looked at the man she danced with and said, "By the way, what is your name?"

"Jason" he replied.

"That is a good name," said Emily.

"Thank you" said Jason, "Now, are we going to try and save your parents or what?"

"Yes, right we should do that", said Emily.

So they went back to her room. Her mom was not there. Then they went to her mom's room. But, she was not there!

"Let's go to the ballroom, ok?" said Emily.

When they were there they saw Jafter. She got a spoon and threw it at the chandelier. It fell on Jafter and he was destroyed! The kingdom was saved and they all lived happily ever after.

