One night on a peaceful Christmas eve, two dogs watched a Christmas show on TV through a window. Then, the news came up and said, "Santa is trapped in the haunted house!" Every child in the world started to cry. That's what made the dogs go to the haunted house to find Santa and find who trapped Santa in the haunted house.

Everybody knows that there is only one haunted house in town. So, when the dogs got to the door, they found a piece of black fur. They both thought it was suspicious. All they knew was that it had to be something that has black fur.

When the dogs got inside, they saw a monkey that said, "Hello!". Very weird thought the dogs. The dogs let him by their side so they can remember that the monkey is a suspect.

In the haunted house, they saw ghosts, ghouls, witches, mummies, Frankenstein, and vampires! But, none of them had black fur. The monsters ignored them because they were dogs.

But still, the dogs and the monkey couldn't find Santa. Then, they saw a tiger! One dog said in his mind t-t-tiger! Then, the tiger roared saying, "Can I come with you?" The monkey and the dogs said yes. Now the tiger and the monkey are suspects.

Very soon they saw a raccoon. He joined the group and became a suspect. But the raccoon was really weird. Then they saw small foot prints, too small for the tiger. So, the tiger is not a suspect anymore.

They went in a creepy hall with ghosts in it. In the middle of the hall was a banana peel. Suspicious thought one of the dogs.

So they went on thinking it was the monkey. But then they saw some claws and by those claws was a door. It needed a key...

But, the key lock looked like a claw. So the monkey picked up a claw and put it in the lock. The door opened and made a creak.

Then, they found... SANTA! By Santa they found raccoon fur. So the monkey, dogs, tiger, and Santa put the raccoon in a cage and gave it to an animal shelter. Christmas had been saved!!
