The Clicking Noise

By Jordan

One day I heard click clacking on my roof in my room. I turned on my music and my lighted stuffed animal. I wanted to tell my mom and dad. But I knew I would get in trouble. I always get in trouble.

I opened my door. I saw mom and dad's light on. I went to my sister's room. But, she was asleep. I went to the living room and checked on my dogs. But they were asleep. I went back to bed and heard it again.

I got a drink of water. I was brave and I told my mom and dad. They said that it was rats in our attic. I hope that they will stay in the attic and don't bother me.
