

Duckicorn and Uniduck

By Lylli T

Once upon a time, Duck and Unicorn were walking through the woods. They went to the pond to see Fish and Dog. Fish and Dog were partners for a homework assignment. Just then, Duck and Unicorn saw a witch. They ran as fast as they could just as she zapped Dog and Fish! They were now one animal. A dogfish.

Dogfish was now swimming in the pond. Unicorn and Duck were now in the magical forest. They were going to go see Cat and Bird (who were also partners for a homework assignment). They were working on how to spell xylophone.

They said, “No, no, no. Its X-Y-L-A-P-H-O-N-E.”

Unicorn said, “Good job! That’s how you spell xylophone.”

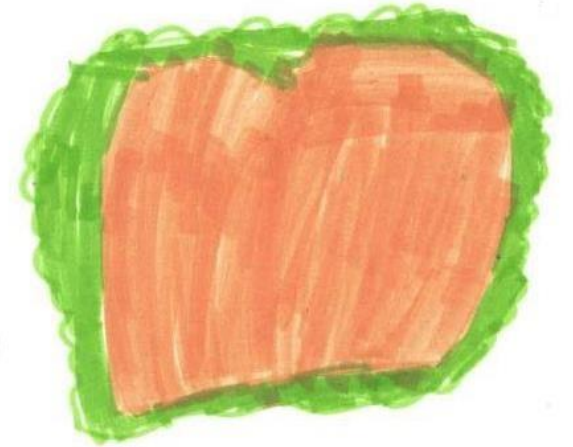

Suddenly the witch came back! She zapped Cat and Bird! Then , they too were one single animal: Catbird.

Unicorn and Duck hid from the witch behind some trees. They kept dodging her spells until one hit unicorn's magical horn. The spell split apart in different directions. Instead of turning them into one animal, they turned into two animals, Duckicorn and Uniduck. One part of the spell reflected back at the witch and combined her with the sand she was standing on. She turned into a sandwich.

"That looks yummy," said Duckicorn.

Both Duckicorn and Uniduck split the sandwich in half and ate it. That was the end of the witch and the start of many adventures by Duckicorn and Uniduck.

The End is just the beginning...
