

The Gathering

By
Corbin M

The Gathering

By Corbin

In Star Wars the Clone Wars, the young Jedi were making their own lightsabers. If I was in the cave, this is what would have happened to me.

One time in a far, far away galaxy there were the star wars. The Jedi and the dark side were in a war. When it was finally time that the young Jedi were going to make their own light sabers. When they got to the sacred planet, they met Yoda.

“Enter the cave you must.” Yoda proclaimed.

“Once you enter, the door will start to freeze over again.” Yoda said.

“Okay master.” Corbin said.

“Find your crystal you must.” Yoda exclaimed.

“How will we know it is ours?” Jingi asked.

Yoda had to figure out what Jingi said and that is what Yoda did. So Corbin, Jingi, and the rest of the young Jedi’s entered the cave.

“It is cold and scary in here.” Said the oldest girl.

“It is very cold but not really scary.” Corbin said.

“Now let’s stop talking and find our crystals.” Said the oldest girl.

“Crrrrystallllllll!” Jingi said.

“You can see a crystal.” Corbin said.

“Yeeeees.” Jingi said.

“Well I can’t, see a crystal, so that means that only the owner of the crystal can see it.” Corbin said.

On the other side of the cave, the girls were with each other.

“What is that shining thing?” the youngest asked.

“I don’t know, I can’t see anything.” The older one said.

“It is beautiful.” The youngest said.

When the girl got her crystal, she went to the safe place outside of the cave. Corbin was still looking for his crystal. Corbin was still walking to find his crystal when he saw something shining.

“I think I found it.” He said

So he went on a long travel up the mountain. In about twenty minutes he was there.

“The long travel is done,” Corbin said, “Now I need to find out how to get it.”

So he was about to jump when he remembered about the force. The girls and Jingi were already out and safe so it was up to Corbin to save all Jedi kind. He was about to grab it with force when it fell. Corbin jumped and grabbed it in the air. When he hit the ground, he thought he was fine but he broke three of his bones. His femur, radius, and his ribs.

“Why did this have to happen to me?!” Corbin tried yell.

When Corbin was about to scream, he hit the frozen ground and it cracked.

So when Corbin got up to the frozen waterfall, he used the force and it broke in two.

“What just happened?” said the older girl.

“It all just takes the brain to escape.” Yoda said.

So now it is time for them to make their light sabers. When they got to the sacred light saber building planet, they had to learn how to make them. When they knew how to make them, they were off to building their masterpieces.

Corbin's was going to be a green light saber because of the color of his crystal. Jingi's light saber will be blue because of his will also get a gun because he was a chosen one.

The first thing the young Jedi had to do was make a handle. Their handles were made out of stone and string. They also had to use paint to their handles so they know it is theirs. Next they had to put their crystal into a machine so that it could analyze it and be the right fit for the handle. After they did this, they were on their way to making their own light sabers.

They all placed their crystals in the open part on the light saber, then they closed the hatch.

"Wow this is awesome," Corbin said "I hope I get to teach people how to do this."

They all made their light sabers and were ready for when they get attacked by the dark side.