

Teddy Bear

cauliflower

How Cave People Started Eating Vegetables

By SAMIRA!

carrot

club

A long time ago when days were new
and so hot and dry, there lived a tribe of cave people called the Noodles. Their names were Samira, Samir, and Summer. They hardly had any food at all!

If you listen closely you will find the MORAL or LESSON of the story and the MORAL or LESSON of the story is great to grow up with in life.

Once Upon a time there was a Tribe of cave people, The Noodles, who like the other Tribes, were VERY, VERY, VERY, HUNGRY AND VERY, VERY, VERY HOT!!!

"I'M SOOOO HOT!" cried Samir.

"Me two, me three!" blurted the twins Summer and Samira in between words.

"I've got it!" yelled Samir. "We'll steal other tribes food!"

The Tiggergibs had gone out to go hunting for food. So now was the perfect time to the steal tribe's food, at least that's what they thought. So the Noodles snuck into the Tiggergibs camp and arranged who would be the watch guards.

Samir said, "Summer, Samira, be watch guards."

Before she went to watch duty, Summer found a teddy bear.

"What is thing-a-mabobber?" asked Summer as she started shaking it.

Samira exclaimed, "That warheads and toxic waste candy!"

They were so distracted with all the stuff in camp that they lost track of time.

“UHOHUHOH!” screamed the Twins (the watch guards), shushing each other after they screamed.

Summer caught a glimpse of the Tiggergibs coming back to the cave!!!!

“OH SHEEP- HEADS!”
said Samir quickly grabbing three pieces of food.

The Tiggergibs saw the Noodles running away from their camp.

“Those ROTTEN robbers!” yelled Mr. Tiggergib.

“They took pieces food!” screamed Mrs. Tiggergib.

“They stole teddy bear!” screamed the child.

The Noodles were still hungry, so they decided to steal some more food from the Flabberschtoots.

Samir said, "I know! We dig hidden hole tonight by Fabberschtoots."

So that night they dug the hidden hole and waited. The next morning when the Flabberschtoots were leaving camp, the dog walked in front of the group. The dog fell into the trap.

Summer and Samira jumped out of their hiding spot like crazy people and yelled, "We got 'em!"

Then Samir pulled them back and said, "No just dog."

But it was too late. The Flabberschtoots saw them. They ran to the Noodle's hiding spot and beat the Noodles with clubs. Then they pushed the Noodles into the hole. The Noodles were stuck.

The twins cried, "Dang it, dang it."

The Tiggergibs were hunting for the Noodles when they passed by the Flabbershtoot's camp.

"Where Noodles? They is stealing Tiggergibs food," said Mr. Tiggergib.

"Theys try food robbing us. Stuck in hole," said Mrs. Flabbershtoots.

"Must punish," said Mrs. Tiggergib.

"I know. Make eat cauliflower and broccoli," said the Tiggergibbs child.

From then on the Noodles were forced to eat cauliflower and broccoli. That is how cave people started eating vegetables.

