Chapter 1

Where

“WHERE?! WHERE.... WHERE IS IT!!!!?” yelled Alisa as she was freaking out.

She was a zebra, and she was very weird and kind. At her school she heard about an animal world.

“Stop freaking out, there is no such thing of it,” said Sammantha.

She as well was a girl at Alisa’s school. Though she was a human, very smart but mean. Alisa didn’t listen and went where she was told.

Sammantha followed her because she was curious. “Ugh what an idiot she is, I’m only following her to show her its fa...”

There stood in front of them was a huge portal guarded by lions.

One said, “We’ve been waiting for you Alisa. But who’s this? She smells mean.”

He went up to Sammantha to lick and smell her.

“Umm back up leech,” said Sammantha with a disgusted face on.

“Alisa go. Guys help me with this... LEECH” said the lion right back at her.

“How do you like me now?” asked Alisa as she jumped over them.

One knocked her down and scolded her.

She ripped herself out of his paws. “Oh you think you’re smarter than me?”

He said, “Uhh yeah I’m smarter than a leech.”

She jumped over and hopped in the portal. The next thing she knew she was in a different dimension, an animal universe.

Chapter 2

Real Leeches

“ALISA, ALISA!!!” screamed Sammantha as she was freaking out because she was in a different world.

Alisa finally replied, “Sam I’m right here. But do you see this? It’s amazing. Let’s go in the cast- oww..... It’s a map. Yepp were going in the castle.”

Sammantha was curious so she followed. The castle was unspeakable. There were lights in the shape of paws, but they were made of lava. They heard someone that didn't sound so happy and shivers went down their spines.

"WHO'S HERE? I DO NOT WANT YOU HEREEEEEEEE! LEAVE RIGHT NOW! OH. DON'T HEAR YOU LEAVING. WELL OKAY WANT TO SEE YOUR DEATH BED?!" said the angriest voice that sounded almost like a bobcat.

Out jumped a bobcat with a crown with red, blue, and green diamonds. He jumped at them and in surprise started shooting claws like bullets. Alisa panicked and started running. She accidentally bumped him and he fell in lava. They passed him and carried on. Up ahead they saw a river, a black, red, and green river.

"A RIVER FULL OF SNAKES!!! AND LEECHES!!" yelled Sammantha very terrified.

"Real leeches," said Alisa. "But how do we cross it?" (and if I forgot to say Alisa was dumb and Sam is a genius)

"Uh duh we kill them with... all these bobcat claws on the castle floor," said Sam.

So Sam and Alisa started throwing claws at them. Once they got them all, well they thought, they placed rocks over them and made a path. Then one jumped and bit Sam. She fainted. So Alisa put her on her back and she kept going.

Chapter 3

Don't die!

After a while she woke up.

"Uhh... WHERE ARE WE?" yelled Sam.

"Don't worry, we are heading to that house," said Alisa.

They could see a house up ahead, as well as a sign.

"Hmmm, what does that say? D..og foo..d dea..th hou..se. Dog food death house?" stuttered Alisa.

She paused for a second and she stared at the sign as it popped and lit up with red, black, and orange light through the cracks. She just stared at it and kept walking closer.

After a while she got to the house.

“Actually I don’t think it’s a good idea to go there,” said Sammantha.

But Alisa ignored her and kept going. She went through the door. There stood a man with a pot. He was stirring something. Then he poured it on the floor and disappeared. Only a few dog food pieces were left and they had to jump on them. While they were jumping, Alisa fell.

“Well there she goes,” said Sam. The next thing she knew Alisa was on other side of new portal, “Uhh... What?”

“Hey just jump you’ll go to the next side,” yelled Alisa.

So Sammantha did and there she spawned by Alisa. They set off on another journey. Up ahead, they saw a sign that said Zebra Village.

Once they got there, they couldn’t see because it was all grassy. All they could see was the roofs of the houses. Then there was a zebra that came up to them and greeted them. She led them through the village. They met many other zebras. But they were already out in no time. Before they left, the zebra warned them about a volcano.

“A volcano ay? I don’t think so!” said Sam.

“I mean look at all the other stuff we’ve found. Why not believe that?” replied Alisa.

“LOOK! A huge mountain! It’s a volcano!!” screamed Sammantha

Then it started to rumble and out sprinted a bunch of fennec fox’s from their dens. They started shooting out and they were flying everywhere. One landed on Sammantha’s head.

“AHHHHHHH!!! GET IT OFF!!” she yelled.
